Tin Can Collection Date Is Announced

The local salvage committee is planning its next tin can collection for Saturday, May 22, when a house-to-house canvass of the entire town will be made. This will be the only collection made until fall, so the townspeople are urged to get their tin out on the sidewalks by 8 a. m. on that day. If their homes have been missed in the past four collections, they are asked to put their empty tins into the nearest salvage bin so that they can be picked up there.

Scrap metal is still needed, but the committee has decided to wait until fall before launching another drive, as the scrap dealer will need most of the summer to clean up and ship to the steel mills his vast accumulation.

Next fall, it is hoped that the farmers will make a concerted effort to uncover the particularly-needed heavy farm scrap that is lying around on their properties.

Local people are asked to remember the tin can collection date—Saturday, May 22.

To Organize Council

A meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at 4:00 at the Christ church parish house to organize an Andover council of churches. Each local church will be represented by its pastor and two lay delegates. The purpose of the council is to encourage greater cooperation among the churches in any programs they have in common for exerting a Christian influence on the moral and spiritual life of the community.

Old Trolley Rails Are Being Removed

Government Sponsors Large Salvage Job

About 300 tons of rails from the old trolley line, running through several miles of Andover and Shawsheen, will have been removed by the middle of this month under the terms of a contract made by the federal government with Louis Cyr, Lawrence contractor. The rails are located on Elm street as far up as Washington avenue, and from the Square down North Main street through Shawsheen and along Union street.

The town is party to the agreement in that it has granted written permission to the government to have the work done, through Roy E. Hardy, chairman of the board of selectment. Mr. Hardy went over the contract thoroughly with Charles T. Gilliard, B.P.W. superintendent.

Mr. Cyr's contract with the government protects the town from any personal or property damages that might accrue from the work in the territory specified, and the streets will be resurfaced by the contractor with concrete or asphalt. Mr. Gilliard will inspect the

War Bond Prizes Offered In School Essay Contest

The sum of $60 in war stamps and bonds will be divided between local schoolchildren through prizes offered by Miss Irma Beene, well-known local merchant, for an essay on "Why was the second war loan drive necessary", or some similar topic dealing with the purchase of war bonds. The best essay by a Punched student will be rewarded with a $25 war bond, and another will be awarded for the best essay by a pupil in Grades 7 to 9 in the Junior high or St. Augustine's parochial schools. A second prize for an essay from a Grade 7 to 9 pupil will be $10 in war stamps.

School Supt. Edward I. Erickson has announced the appointment of Mrs. Myron E. Gutterson, well-known local writer and lecturer, Miss Miriam Putnam, town librarian, and Mrs. Otis T. Severance, president of the Central P. T. A., as judges of the contest.

All essays received will be passed upon by a board of teachers in the grades specified, and only the better ones will be finally sent to the board of judges. Essays must be from 500 to 1000 words long, and originality will be taken into consideration as well as a good use of English.

New Draft Group Leaves Monday

Names Published Of Men Accepted This Week; Four Are Accepted For Navy; Jackson Is Leader

An extremely small group of men was accepted as this month's quota at Selective Service headquarters in Boston Monday. Most of the men accepted are in the younger age brackets, and they will leave for Fort Devens next Monday morning to begin active service. Andrew H. Jackson of 32 Dufton road is leader of the group.

Five of them are in service branches other than the army, Andrew M. Campbell of South Main street having been assigned to the Coast Guard, and William B. Vannett, 4 Brechin terrace; Milton J. Perry, South Main street; Richard G. Hopping, Boxford; and Gaetano J. Mangano, 205 Massachusetts avenue, North Andover, to the Navy.

James H. B. Morton, 19 Marland road, Ballardvale; Robert C. Twombly, 55 Marblehead street, North Andover; and Thompson Webb, Jr., of California, formerly of Andover, did not leave with the group but will be credited to this month's quota.

Others accepted for army service were: Henry C. Buntin, South Main street; Andrew H. Jackson, 32 Dufton road; Richard S. Douglas, 16 Morton street; Joseph W. Richards, South Main street; James F. Lyons, 16 Cleveland street, No. Andover; Paul G. Robbins, Jr., 28 Maple avenue; Thomas W. Harris, 35 Essex street; Milton D. Howard, 20 Pleasant street, North Andover.

Three Elected To School Vacancies

New Course In Spanish Begins This September

Two new teachers and a new supervisor were appointed at a special meeting of the school committee Tuesday night. Miss Louise Leupold of Cambridge was appointed to teach physical education in Grades 1 through 6, and Miss Irene Menihane of Methuen to have charge of the newly opened fifth and sixth grades at Bradlee school. Mrs. Bertha Bevington will succeed Mrs. Florence Gates, who resigned last week, as manager of the central school cafeteria.

Miss Leupold has been teaching physical and health education at the Bangor (Me.) Junior high school for the past three years, being employed summers as a counsellor at a girls' camp. She is a graduate of Cambridge high and Latin schools and the Bouve school of Physical Education in Boston. She was elected at a salary of $1500 to succeed Miss Sallie Robertson.

Church Education Leader Will Speak Here Sunday

Sunday at 7 in the South church vestry, Dr. Ruth Richards Miller of Somerville will speak, under the auspices of the Junior Pilgrim Fellowship, to the young people of the Andover churches.

At 8:15 there will be a meeting of all interested adults who would like to know more about the Northern New England School of Religious Education, of which Dr. Miller is executive secretary. The 28th annual session of the school will be held at Phillips and Abbot academies from August 15 to 22. It is planned to form an Andover citizens' committee to cooperate in the conduct of the school.

A meeting of the education committee of the trustees, who are responsible for the program, was held yesterday at the home of the treasurer and business manager, Thaxter Eaton of Abbot street.

Most of the class work, in the Andover session, will take place in McKean hall at Abbot. It will cover many phases of church and

Extensive Maneuvers May Be Held Here

Though there has been considerable talk here during the past week that extensive maneuvers will be held in this area a week from Sunday, May 23, local civilian defense officials stated yesterday that they had no information for publication as yet on the matter.

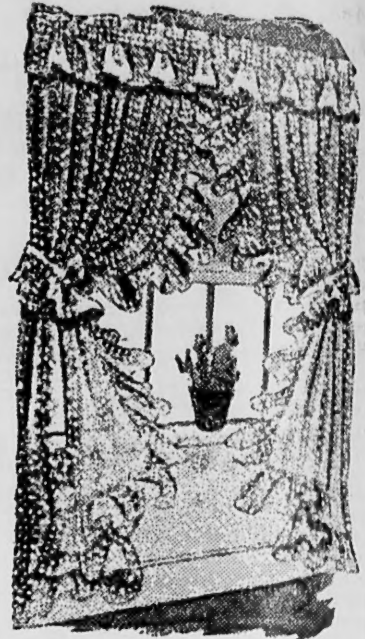

Maneuvers will be held this Sunday through southeastern New England, involving parts of this state, Rhode Island and Connecticut, and it appears probable that a similar test will be held in the rest of Massachusetts. State Guard units, the civilian defense corps and units of the regular army will be called out if the project is similar to that of this Sunday.

In the event that a test is to be held, sufficient notice will be given to the public several days beforehand in order that civilian defense workers and State Guardsmen will understand their assignments.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

Lieut. Com. James D. Craik of the Coast Guard has been on North Atlantic convoy duty for the past year. Recently he spent a few hours with his mother, Mrs. Lucy B. Craik of 20 Pearson street. His wife made the trip with him from New York.

Lieut. Com. Craik is a graduate of the local public schools and Punchard high school. In 1937, when a lieutenant (j. g.) he was honored by being the first Coast Guard officer picked to supervise whaling operations in the Indian Ocean under the terms of a then recently completed international treaty. At that time, he represented the Coast Guard in a fleet of five whaling vessels.

AT EASE!

A. C. Steve Hansen has moved along to Bainbridge, Georgia, to continue his training.

John Surette of Locke street has just finished a mechanic's course and received his promotion to corporal. He's been assigned to a fighter squadron at Harding Field, Louisiana.

Cpl. Joe Peters, former Punchard student now in the AAF, writes us a nice note about his Townsman. Ye editor blushes again.

Local men recently released from service include Pvt. John Regan, Pvt. James Bisset, who is back as a Guild instructor, Pvt. Joseph Wright of Main street, and Pvt. Claude Miner of Maple avenue.

Willard H. Currier, 9 Kensington street, has been commissioned shavetail at Fort Sill, Okla., and has been assigned to duty with the field artillery at Camp Hale, Colorado.

Sgt. Jim McKee of 10 Morton street has graduated, after six weeks of study, from the infantry weapons course at the Camp Lejeune (N. C.) Marine base, and is now ready to serve as a qualified instructor. He also got that third stripe on completing the course.

Tom Gillespie arrived home Sunday night on a 12-day leave from Meriden, Miss., where he's with the AAF. Tom was transferred recently to Key Field, Meriden, from Boca Raton Field, Florida.

S/Sgt. John J. Timony, with the coast artillery at Camp Haan, Calif., recently received a poem, which he passed along to us, from a friend, PFC Jim Ruxton, who fought in New Guinea and is now recovering from a severe attack of malaria in Australia. Ruxton, by the way, mentions that Doug Crockett, Punchard '36, who was wounded last year, is coming along alright, and that he has met George Baker in his travels . . . The poem is as follows:

"I wonder if the fruit man makes his daily calls,
If the 'copper' walks his beat along the library walls.
If the same old neighbors whom I knew go up and down the street—
Each day I wonder, just like all the rest
If there is anything strange or new.
I hope the old town looks the same as the picture my memory drew.
Sometimes I dream of home and the things I used to do;
I wander through those same old hills
With hound and gun and again am thrilled.
Then my memory takes me back along the old mill stream,
To where I used to fish along the banks of the old Shawshien.
Then in my dreams I wander through the home-town square;
I gaze about me, but my pals don't seem to be there.
So I will live in memories until that day
That we all may meet again in the old town square.

Albert Lowe, now serving in the army at Camp Croft, S. C., has been promoted to technician fifth-grade.

Pvt. Clinton Stevens, AAF, is now studying at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

The O'Hagans of Baker's lane are a four-star family in the present war, having four sons in service, all the army. Cpl. John O'Hagan is at Camp Davis, N. C.; Pvt. Eddie O'Hagan at Camp Pendleton, Va., with the artillery; Pvts. Jimmy and Pete O'Hagan both in the infantry at Camp Blanding, Fla.

Red Dobbie, back home on Brechin terrace recently for a few days, has left Toccoa, Georgia, to take up commando training at Camp Croft, So. Car.

PFC Johnny Gill of Cuba street has graduated from the technical supply school of the AAFTC at Southwestern Tech, Weatherford, Okla. Johnny, a graduate of Lowell Tech, was a civilian textile inspector for the War Department at the Jeffersonville (Ind.) QM depot before entering service. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Gill.

Sgt. and Mrs. Walter Lincoln Stack of Anniston, Ala., are rejoicing over the birth of a son, Richard Lincoln, born May 3. Mrs. Stack was the former Adrienne Sullivan of Brookline. Lincoln's with the infantry RTC at Fort McClellan.

Pvt. Tom Ryan is home on a brief furlough from California, where he's with a tank destroyer battalion. Tom was transferred to his present location three weeks ago from Camp Hood.

Miss Helen Platt of Bancroft road has been commissioned second lieutenant in the Army Nurses Corps. She is at present on the staff of the McGowan hospital in Methuen. She graduated from the Waltham hospital nursing school in 1932, remaining there as head nurse in the obstetric ward. For four years she was public health nurse for the city of Waltham, taking special courses in that field at Simmons college. Her brother, PFC Jim Platt, is with the ferry command at Long Beach, Calif.

Cpl. Ray Gaudet's quartermaster company, in an aviation service group, was recently commended by Major Gen. Louis Brereton for "outstanding performance of duty" in the Egyptian theatre. From September 1 to November 15, says the citation, the unit, "by their untiring devotion to duty under the most trying conditions of the heat and sandstorms of the Egyptian desert, made possible the active participation of the Army Air Force units . . . in the major battle then formulated . . . Motor transportation equipment was prepared for the use and possession of combat units under field conditions rendering such work virtually impossible. This task was performed night and day." . . . A copy of the citation was sent home by Ray to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gaudet of County road, who are naturally quite proud of it.

It's been like Old Home Week at the Townsman offices these past few days. First of all it was Don Look, former Townsman photographer, home on furlough after finishing his Navy basic training at Sampson, N. Y. Don seems to have grown a couple of inches and certainly looks in the pink . . . We were also visited Monday by Sgt. Eddie Coates, ex-linotyper, home on furlough from Needles, Calif.

Sgt. Eber Gibson is at Camp Stewart, Ga.

PFC Bill Wrigley of Homestead, Fla., has returned there after a ten-day furlough with the folks. Mr. and Mrs. Romney Rouse of Lowell street.

A. C. Harris Richardson, son of Mrs. Theresa Richardson of 23 Salem street, is entering the third stage of his pilot training, flying a BT-13 at the AAFBFC at Courtland, Ala. His course includes instrument flying, night soloing and a thorough study and application of aerial navigation.

Tommy Wallace, now stationed in Florida with a chemical company, has been promoted to cpl. tech.

Understand Aux. Mary Finno of Harding street is with the WAAC at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Cpl. Joe Hansen is attached to the Antilles Air Task Force, the outfit of Lieut. Tom Harmon, famous football star who recently crashed in a jungle in the Caribbean area. Joe's had a few adventures himself. It seems that his "neighbors" are the Jukas, a tribe of giant bush negroes with strange medical habits. A Juka, on being bitten by a snake—and the country's full of them—swallows the contents of a sac of venom hung around his neck. Joe was recently bitten, and wanted to try this poison cure, but the natives wouldn't let him, said he might scratch a comrade and poison him, since the venom would have the same effect as a snakebite on anybody who hadn't already been bitten.

Fund committee's heard from Frank Fettes, Paul Collins, George Bancroft, Isaac Washington, Fred Perkins, Al Gilman, Donnie Lundgren, Walker Lindsay, Bill Kyle, Bob Harris, Charlie Johnson, Arthur Margerison, Bob Chick, Harry Batchelder, George Douly, John Jones, Charlie Martin, Harvey Marshall, Stanley Norton and Joe Peters.

Lieut. Lucy Gallant, A. N. C., who enlisted in February and is now at Fitzsimmons General hospital, Denver, writes that every thing's fine out there.

Jim Carmichael, signalman 3c in the Navy, son of Mrs. George Carmichael of Burnham road, was recently initiated into the shellbacks. Jim got his boot training at Newport, and later graduated from the Navy school at the U. of Illinois. He's getting his Townsman and sends his thanks.

Lieut. Clarence Weeks of Chestnut street, now of Camp Livingston, La., was married April 17 to Miss Arline Virginia Bursley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bursley of Winchester.

Sgt. Arthur Margerison, AAF, of Greenville, Miss., has sent the Fund association a picture of the business section of that town. Says Greenville's OK, but it ain't Andover.

Fund committee also states that they've had replies on 80 percent of the packages they sent out last October, and even now they get a card or more every week. Just yesterday they got a letter from Sgt. Henry Smith, now overseas.

Garrett Burke and Gene Bonin are both located at Texarcana, Texas, which is so close to the state line that half their camp is in Texas, the rest in Arkansas. Both are getting along great.

Bridie O'Beirne, yeoman 2c, is now studying for her first-class exam at the Naval communications depot in Washington, D. C.

The nominating committee will present its report on officers for the coming year.

Past presidents night will be observed, the eleven living presidents of previous years being invited to attend as guests of the club. The past presidents of the organization are Nathan C. Hamblin, Henry S. Hopper and Howell F. Shepard (Lions club); Charles R. Scott (deceased), Dr. Nathaniel Stowers, Carl E. Elander, Thaxter Eaton, Richard G. Whipple, Francis E. Wilson, Kenneth L. Sherman, Walter C. Tomlinson and Harold W. Leitch. J. Augustus Remington is this year's president.

Schools

Miss Menihane has been teaching Grade 6 for the past year in Wilmington, and for the previous two years Grades 5 and 6 in the Hooksett, N. H., system. She is a graduate of St. Mary's high school, Lawrence, and Lowell State Teachers college, class of 1938, and has attended summer sessions at the University of New Hampshire. She will receive a salary of $1300.

Mrs. Bevington was elected as of September 1 to manage the cafeteria, at a salary of $1300. In her new duties, will be assisted by the new Punchard home economics teacher.

The committee received a communication from Randolph Perry to the effect that the Ballardvale P. T. A. has voted to establish a prize at the Junior high school, which may be known as the Clara A. Putnam award in memory of the school's late principal. The award, $5, would be made annually at the Junior high graduation to the ninth grade pupil showing the greatest general improvement during the past year. The association plans to make the first award next month.

An extensive discussion of the school library system was held between the committee and Miss Mary Byers Smith, Miss Miriam Putnam, Miss Evelyn Banning and Eugene V. Lovely. It was brought out that Miss Evelyn Robinson, young people's librarian at Memorial Hall, is now devoting her full time to the Punchard and Junior high libraries.

Two rooms are now being used at the Junior high to take care of the library's expanded facilities, and last month several hundred books were charged. The committee voted, on Miss Banning's recommendation, to continue the project another year.

While no expensive equipment is being sent to the Junior high, the library there has proved a popular feature, and large use is made of it by the pupils. Mr. Lovely reported that library use is not so large in the high school, due to the pressure of the heavy physical education program.

The committee was also referred to the study recently completed by Mrs. Emma G. Carter and Edward C. Manning of the Punchard guidance department on the present activities of last year's graduating class. At the same time it was pointed out that this year's class will have 68 members, the smallest group of graduates in many years, out of 81 pupils starting their senior year last September.

The committee also voted to have Spanish taught in the senior year at Punchard, beginning next year, since 24 incoming senior pupils have requested it. No course will be eliminated to make room for the new language study.

WINS LANGUAGE PRIZE

Jeanne M. Wirtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August A. Wirtz of Shawsheen, was named recipient of the Romance Languages Prize at Wheaton College Tuesday. Miss Wirtz is a candidate this year for the bachelor of arts degree at Wheaton.

cabling Glad the glad news, added to the message: "Need trade-mark. Andover won't accept anonymous entries."

The "Andover", of course, stood for Phillips Andover, where Glad used to be a student. We saw quite a bit of him here when he was editor of our omniscient contemporary, The

POLICE BLOTTER

Fines totaling $85 were imposed on Alfred S. Des Roches of 108 Hudson avenue, Somerville, a straggler from the U. S. Navy, on motor vehicle charges in Lawrence District court this morning. He was fined $50 on a charge of operating under the influence of liquor, $10 for violation of Executive order 40, $25 for failure to stop for a uniformed officer, while a charge of operating without a license was filed.

The case had been continued from last week while local police investigated his previous record.
Des Roches was arrested after a hairbreath chase into North Andover after driving from Woburn at a rate of better than 45 miles an hour. The vehicle he was driving was without a tire, and it was quite a feat of driving for him to have gotten as far as he did, at such a rate, on a bare rim. Damage to the brakeband cost about $50 to repair.

After going through the Square at a fast clip, and failing to stop for the officer on duty there, Des Roches was pursued to North Andover by Officers Frank McBride and Carl Stevens in the police cruiser. He was finally brought to a stop when he drove into a dead-end street. Police found him quite intoxicated, and he remarked to them that he thought his route was leading him back to Winchester.

Charles A. Pickett, 46 Pond street, Georgetown, and Harold Anderson, 83 Gilbert street, Lawrence, appeared in Trial court this morning before Trial Justice Walter Tomlinson, and were fined $10 each.

Pickett was charged with violation of Executive order 35, which imposes a maximum speed limit of 30 miles an hour, after being picked up driving through the square last Thursday evening at about 50 miles per hour.

Anderson was arrested on an improper equipment charge. His vehicle had no sticker, no right front headlight and no tail-light. Many summonses have been served recently in accordance with a police drive to check delinquency in driving without stickers.

Paul Covells of South Main street has reported to the local police department the killing of two pigs on his farm, probably by a pair of stray police dogs which have been seen in that neighborhood.

Community Orchestra Prepares For Concert

The Andover Community Orchestra

Thursday night is orchestra night for many busy Andover people. Storekeepers lock their cash registers, businessmen clear off their desks, teachers close their books, and housewives plan early dinners, and at 8:00 they gather in the music room at the Junior high school for two hours of hard practice under the baton of George Brown of Boston. They come by bus, by foot, and packed into the few automobiles of cooperative owners who can spare the gasoline.

The Andover Community orchestra itself is a purely civic project initiated and supported by the efforts of public spirited citizens of Andover. For some time it was financed by contributions of the players themselves, but when the budget for music, practice rooms, instrument rental, and the services of a fine conductor, became too large for the group, it went on a self supporting basis, deriving its total income from proceeds of its concerts. The ticket sales of two concerts before sell-out houses just about meet the expenses of the orchestra for the year.

In the orchestra, there are a few members who can look back to the time when it first began as a small group meeting in a member's home. Its first public performance was before a small group at Brooks school. Since then the orchestra has grown in numbers and in ability, and its annual presentation of the Messiah with the Andover Choral society is a winter musical high point. Few Andover groups can count on so consistent a record of loyal support from its members, and such continued and intensive work on the part of its leaders.

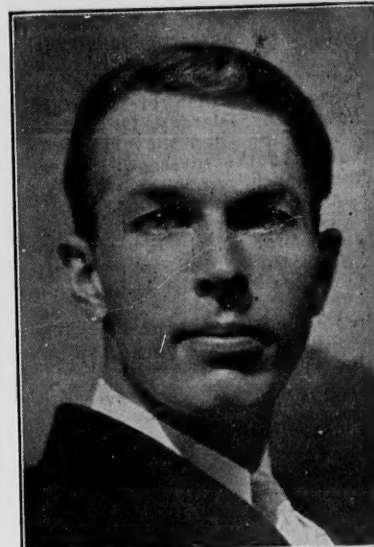

ary was written in English by John Gordon and narrated by Edward R. Murrow. The picture depicts both battles and war production scenes during the 17-month siege of Leningrad beginning in August, 1941.

And Its Conductor

At the Spring concert on May 21, the orchestra will present a diversified and interesting program. The orchestra itself will play numbers ranging from Mozart's Jupiter Symphony to a transcription of an Arkansas square dance by David Guion. In addition, George Brown, who is well known as a cellist in and around Boston, will play a Tartini cello concerto with orchestra accompaniment. Also the Adrian twins, duo-pianists of wide acclaim, will play a Bach concerto with orchestral background. These instrumental soloists will highlight an evening of enjoyable and interesting music.

Tickets for the May 21 concert are on sale at Temple's Music Shop, and reservations can be made by calling the ticket manager, Mrs. John S. Barss, at Andover 1317-J. Reserved seats for the single concert are at 60 cents.

Abbot Academy Notes

There will be a tea dance on Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 for members of the lower classes speech pupils of Mrs. Bertha Morgan and their friends. In the evening at 8:00 in Abbot Hall, special speech pupils of Mrs. Bertha Morgan Gray will present dramatic interpretations of the short story. Taking part will be: Barbara Barnard, of Andover; Esther Buford, of Torrington, Conn.; Betty Lou Monett, of Westfield, N. J.; Elizabeth Frank, of New York City; Nancy Barnard, of Andover; Patricia Pettengill, of Madeira, Ohio; Nancy Emerson, of Titusville, Pa.; and Ann Richards, of Plymouth.

Friends of the school are cordially invited to attend this program as well as the vesper service on Sunday at 7:30, when Dr. Frank Ashburn, headmaster of the Brooks school, will be the speaker.

Auxiliary Dance Saturday

The V. F. W. auxiliary will hold a dance Saturday evening, which all local servicemen home on furlough are invited to attend as guests of the organization. Refreshments and smokes will be served. An orchestra will play for dancing.

Mrs. Bertha Martin heads the committee in charge, which includes all auxiliary members who have sons in the service.

LONG DISTANCE LINES to points outside New England are heavily overburdened. Yet, as you can understand, these lines must handle all essential war messages promptly.

You can help in this situation. Unless yours is war business... use the long distance telephone to points outside New England only in case of extreme urgency.

It will help, too, if you will cancel any non-vital call when you're told that circuits are busy. Just assist us in these ways and we'll furnish prompt service on really urgent messages, even to busy places.

Editorials

Republicans Only

This editorial is going to be confidential—just between us and the Republican party to which we've owed and showed allegiance for some 50-odd years. Democrats really shouldn't read it, because it's a matter of party policy, and besides it might in some instances hurt the feelings of the Democrats.

Well, here goes. First of all, we're disappointed—not just a little disappointed, but a lot disappointed. We have a war, the biggest one in all history, and it's brought with it the greatest change in living that the country has ever known over a comparatively short period of time. To lead us in this crisis we have a man, a Democrat who bolted the Jeffersonian Democratic party to create a new Rooseveltian Democratic party. To give him due credit, he's done a very good job in foreign policy, but he's sure made a mess of things, a very costly mess of things, here at home.

And that's where we Republicans come in, or should have come in. But did you realize that the two most severe critics of the Roosevelt spending spree and the Roosevelt financial lackadaisicalness have been Democrats, a fellow named Byrd from Virginia and another named Truman who hails from Missouri both physically and mentally? Where in the name of all that's good and GOPish have we Republicans been?

We at home have been aware of it, but you fellows down in Washington have followed a policy that borders a bit, quite a bit, on the obstructionist. You of the Taft school, you've just been antis; and what we here at home want are men of positive, constructive, vigorous action, men who can see what's wrong and then bend every effort to correct it.

You're watching 1944 too much. You figure that if you do nothing, you can do nothing wrong, but that's just where you ARE wrong. Doing nothing, when there's so much to do, is one sure way of losing an election.

And there's another thing. You Taftians, you who before the war were all against entering it, you who like Ham Fish managed to squeak your way back in despite the fact that you were very much isolationist,—you are the fellows who are going to want to have some say in the peace that's going to follow this war. You will want to run someone of your frame of mind for the Presidency in 1944. We Republicans don't want someone of that frame of mind. You'd better watch your home-town book counters, watch the sale of a book called "One World" which threatens to surpass the sale of "Gone With the Wind," note how people hurry home on the nights that a certain shaggy-haired individual from Indiana speaks on the radio even if only on "Information Please", and you'll see how very much the rank and file of your party still want the man who in "One World" has shown the way to permanent peace—Wendell Willkie. He's been the one bright hope the party has had, he's been the one man who gave the ordinary everyday Republican a feeling that maybe the party could be made a 20th Century instead of a 19th Century political organization.

This Sober Town

Priding ourself as we do on our knowledge of human nature, we read with no great surprise, the other day, that fewer weekend passes are being requested there since the WAACS arrived at Fort Devens.

What did shock us was a mention of the changes the WAACS are making at Devens. For instance they have an official "Date House" and an official beauty shop—with a "pe" on the end, mind you.

Both these edifices, incidentally, were guardhouses before the WAACS got there, which may also be significant.

The influence of the WAACS has since grown apace. An army captain and a WAAC captain were married April 29. And the WAACS have started a custom that you must smile when you salute.

Now of course, the WAACS are all right in their place, but the army itself hasn't done so bad in the past 150 years. The army is in grave danger of losing its own tradition. Instead of a bugler sounding first call in the morning, we may have someone going down the barracks streets hollering "Mice!" And at the command "right dress", the soldiers may look down to see that their stocking seams are straight.

Eventually a soldier's criticism of his second lieutenant may become as biting as "Did you see that awful hat he was wearing!"

The captain may be habitually called "the old lady." War games may be held with Sutherland's $2.98 sport suits as the principal objective. Aprons may replace the army's traditional fatigue uniforms.

Oh, we can think of lots of things that could happen. All bad, of course.

We met a man the other day who alleged, in all sincerity, that he has plenty of points left at the end of each week. "Of course", he added as an afterthought, "we don't eat anything."

Several people stopped us on the street last Friday morning to ask who really did draw that cartoon we published the day before. The cartoon itself was signed by Alan Dunn, but we attributed it, in the caption, to Alan Reed. Naturally, the guy who signed it should know his own name, which makes us dead wrong.

Incidentally, the character with horns playing his pipes under the tree is not Beelzebub. It's Pan—or somebody.

Andover people who follow the cartoon "Us Girls" in the Boston Post may be interested in knowing that one of the panels in yesterday's drawing was suggested by Mrs. Walter MacTammany of Ballardvale. The caption states: facetiously that more women are standing in street-cars these days because they have to make their stockings last for the duration.

So Winnie is back in Washington. Well, we wonder what sort of clothes he brought with him this time. On his last visit, you remember, his streamlined, coverall suit made quite a hit with the country's small male civilian populace, and the women whipped up several smart adaptations for themselves.

This trip, we perceive, Winnie is wearing the same old yachting cap, now becoming as much of a trademark as his famed undersized bowler. Whether he brought the coveralls or some other sartorial innovation we are waiting anxiously to hear.

Woman Is Found Fatally Wounded

Mrs. Josephine C. Lapp Rockwell, 34, was found shot to death with a bullet wound through the heart at 4:40 yesterday afternoon, in her upstairs bedroom at her home at 47 Cuba street, by her husband, Henry D. Rockwell, Jr. Rockwell, who had been sitting downstairs and did not hear the shot, had last seen his wife about three-quarters of an hour before. She was reportedly in ill health.

Local police investigated, and summoned Sgt. William Rattigan of the Boston police department, a fingerprint expert, to examine a .22 calibre pistol for prints.

Upon discovering Mrs. Rockwell's body, her husband called a neighbor, John Sullivan, who summoned the family physician, Dr. Charles Currier.

Mrs. Rockwell was a native of Waban.

Private funeral services will be held at the late home tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock with Rev. Clinton W. Carvell, minister at the Trinitarian Congregational church, North Andover, officiating. Burial will be in Norwich, Vt.

NEW LIBRARY EXHIBITION

In observance of the tenth anniversary of the celebrated wholesale burning of books in Germany, the Memorial Hall library has gathered together an exhibit of the works of authors on the Nazi proscribed list. Many of the writers, of all countries, are now working in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. George Quinn, the latter formerly Miss Evelyn Dow, have moved from New York to Chicago.

Use Of Herbs To Be Described At Library

The food production committee and Andover Garden club are jointly sponsoring a lecture by Mrs. Hollis Webster of Lexington, well-known authority on herbs, at the Memorial Hall library at 2:00 Friday afternoon, to which the public is invited. There is no admission charge. Mrs. Webster's subject is "Growing and Use of Culinary Herbs."

On the main floor of the library, a Red Cross nutrition table has been arranged by members of the nutrition class at Abbot under Miss Elaine Dodge. The Garden club will have a table showing finished canned herb products. Mrs. John Stewart is in charge of the table arrangement.

Since it is probable that no canned products will be shipped more than 500 miles from where the food is grown next winter, home canning is expected to assume a great importance.

Third Family Night At Library Friday

The third and last in the series of family nights at the Memorial Hall library will be held Friday at 7:30. Three films are to be shown, "Introduction to Haiti," a color film of a visit to Port au Prince, the city of Cap Haitian and the ruins of the buildings erected by Henri Christophe; "Railroadin'," also a color film showing the history of railroads; and "Television," picturing a studio in operation and explaining the functions of a transmitting station.

Books on the various subjects will be displayed and Miss Sarah A. Ballard will speak briefly about a few of them.

Mrs. J. Leverett White of Cedar road recently enjoyed a short vacation with relatives at York Harbor, Me.

Herbert E. Otis is a member of the planning committee for the church school conference at the First-Calvary church, Lawrence, next Wednesday. Mrs. Elton E. Smith will lead a conference on Junior work.

The seventh grade was shown a picture entitled "First Steps in First Aid," a government film, Tuesday.

Miss Evelyn Robinson assumed her duties as the fulltime school librarian this week.

Mrs. Albion Johnson of Norfolk and her son, Lieut. Paul Johnson, were recent visitors of the former's sister, Miss Ella Peterson of Greenwood road.

Peter J. Myers of 49½ Elm street has made application for assignment to the Army Engineers as a construction specialist. He expects to be employed as a crane operator.

As Kate Smith Says:

"HELLO EVERYBODY"

For this week, let's forget about ration points on fresh meats and look over the prospect of a fish dinner.

We have Fresh caught Halibut

We have Fresh caught Mackerel

We have Fresh caught Salmon

Also Flounder, Haddock and Cod.

I am sure you will find in this market the best selection of fresh vegetables and fruits in town.

ATTENTION!

May 17 there is going to be a big revision in prices for foods. Also—and get this—there is going to be a far different way of selling you your cuts of meats. I will make no comments on this change, for I am almost dizzy trying to follow their rules on meat cutting. Just give us the fresh meats and we will cut it the way the O. P. A. regulations say we must.

Union Congregational Calls New Minister

At a business meeting of the members of the Union Congregational church, Ballardvale, last night, it was voted to call Rev. Arnold M. Kenseth of Cambridge as minister to succeed Chaplain David I. Segerstrom, U. S. A.

Mr. Kenseth, at present a student at Harvard Divinity school, preached at Union Congregational at a candidate two weeks ago. The members also voted to make any necessary repairs at the parsonage.

In the absence of the moderator, Steven T. Byington, church clerk, presided.

DEATHS

Mrs. Rita F. (Winters) Rogers, wife of Thomas Rogers of Lawrence and a former Andover resident, died Saturday at the Lawrence General hospital after a brief illness. She had lived in Andover during the early part of her life, when she attended St. Augustine's school, and had been employed at the Shawsheen mills.

Surviving besides her husband are two step-daughters, Rita and Margaret Rogers; four brothers, Joseph, John, Cpl. Charles Winters, stationed in the South Pacific with a veteran Lawrence unit, and Naval Air Cadet Philip Winters, stationed in Illinois; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Carney; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Winters.

The funeral was held Monday morning at 11:00 from the M. A. Burke funeral home. A high mass of requiem was offered at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Augustine's church, and burial was in the parish cemetery.

A former local resident, Mrs. Ethel G. (Derman) Reed died Friday at her home in Hartford, Conn. She was the wife of John Reed.

Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Evelyn, and a brother, William D. Derman.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Lundgren funeral home. Rev. John S. Moses officiated. Interment was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Charlotte (Welch) Pendlebury, 68, widow of James Pendlebury, died Saturday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Raymond G. Mowat of 66 Summer street. She had lived in North Andover for many years.

Surviving besides Mrs. Mowat is a granddaughter, Joyce E. Mowat.

The funeral was held from her home in North Andover Tuesday afternoon with services at 2:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Episcopal church. Rev. Alexander S. Twombly, rector, officiated. Burial was in Ridgewood cemetery, North Andover.

A former resident of Andover, Joseph C. Kimball, 76, founder of the Kimball and Sherman Shoe company in Haverhill, died Monday at his home at 598 Walnut street, Newton.

He was a former president of the Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers association, and president of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts at one time. In 1893, he was awarded honorable mention for original shoe designing at the Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Massachusetts Republican club.

The funeral was held from the late home Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Randolph Merrill, pastor of the Central Congregational church, Newton, officiating. Burial was in Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

Large delegations represented the Associated Industries, the Mass. Republic club and Masonic organizations.

A resident here for nearly all her 73 years, Mrs. Bessie (Blood) Tyler of 20 Washington avenue, widow of Charles Tyler, died last Thursday evening at the New England Baptist hospital, Boston. She was a member of the South church, and always took an active interest in its affairs.

Surviving are three sons, George Frederick Tyler of Portland, Ore., Archibald of California and Theodore of Andover; two grandchildren; four brothers, Louis Blood of Salem, Roger Blood of California, Harry Blood of Washington, D. C., and Jasper Blood; and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held from the late home Sunday afternoon at 2:00, Rev. Frederick B. Noss officiating. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

COST VERSUS PRICE

There is a big difference between cost and price.

PRICE is the amount you pay originally for an article or commodity—whereas COST is the amount that you are going to pay to use or operate the same.

The PRICE of HOWE'S COLONIAL COAL is the SAME as that of other coals.

The COST is LESS, because actual tests show that it does have "Higher Heat" and "Less Ash" by weight per ton.
